

Where to Go Camping

Aracoma Lodge

Last Update: March 24, 2025

Purpose of this book

This guide has been developed and maintained by the members of Aracoma Lodge for many decades. The purpose for this document is to provide units with a place to obtain potential camping sites while allowing for local units to submit new locations to share with other units in the Black Warrior Council. Moving into 2025, this document will not be published on paper but maintained in a digital format. It will be accessible on the Aracoma Lodge website and linked from the Black Warrior Council website so that all that access the online materials may have the information.

Contents of the book

This document contains a variety of camping locations. Some are long-term while others are great for weekend events. Many of the properties are run by government agencies (National Parks, State Parks, Corps of Engineers) while others are strictly owned and operated by various councils within the realm of Scouting America. Also, some properties are privately owned. Each of the properties has the best contact information available at the time published. If you should find updated information, please share with the lodge leadership so we can keep this document current.
